

“Didn’t I tell you this would be more fun than hibernating all winter?”

"Every time they play our song, I get this headache."

"It's an awesome responsibility, molding the minds of millions."

“Say! You were right about those termites after all!”

"We can't go on meeting like this, Annette. My wife is getting fed up with these big cocktail parties."

"With the world the shape it's in, it doesn't seem right to go on painting. I'm thinking of running for Congress."

"I know this sounds ridiculous, Miss Barnes, but you've been replaced by a machine."

"For goodness sakes, George! The subpoena only covers books and records."

"We're impregnable, dear, but are we happy?"

*"You're lucky. You've got lifetime security.
I'm only in for ten years."*

"What's for chow?"

"Even when he plays 'The First Family' over and over and over at peak volume?"

"And please hurry! We can't shower. I can't cook. We can't brush our teeth. I can't open any cans. I can't make coffee. I can't dispose of the garbage. I can't do the dishes. I can't do the laundry. I can't dry my hair. We can't get the news. We can't do anything!!"

"It's good to get home!"

"Admit it, Dad. Deep down, you resent me because I understand the principle of solar energy and you don't."

"Philip has a marvellous tax man. He's just the teeniest bit crooked."

“During these damned interludes, you’d think Channel 13 would pick up a few bucks selling commercials.”

"All I know is he's the dean of American something."

"He's the one I was telling you about."

"It's ironical. Our Peace Corps built their brickyard."

"Oh, for goodness' sake! Can't you just assume he has the right of way?"

"Let me put it this way, Saunders. We feel you might be happier climbing some other pyramid."

"These guys who want to go to the moon—they're just chicken."

“During rehearsals, at least, couldn’t I just say ‘Gosh darn’?”

JB Modell

"He's a great executive, but he's not the easiest guy in the world to work for."

“Call me something without smiling.”

"Do you hear giggling?"

"Mind you, I haven't anything against Caroline personally."

"Then I take it you wouldn't be interested in the sequel, either."

"Isn't she rushing things a little?"

"Have you ever stopped to wonder why he's being so good to us?"

"You're stupid. I like that in a woman."

"Does the star mean it's been unloaded?"

"Well, well, well! Mr. Big!"

w Miller

"Have you noticed an easing of tensions ever since the State of the Union Message?"

"So I walked up to this bank teller—just kidding, you know—and said, 'This is a stickup,' and he believed me."

"By George, do you know what I'm going to do? I'm going to teach you how to play golf!"

"Oh, for heaven's sake, Marjorie! We're discussing deterrents, not detergents."

"My goodness! Prices are down, employment is up, the world is at peace—Oops, I'm looking in the wrong direction!"

"Don't just glower at him, Daughter. Bat him over the head!"

"I'll audit yours if you'll audit mine."

"It doesn't mean a thing, but boy, will it drive them crazy a thousand years from now!"

"The courage I've got. It's the convictions I'm lacking."

"I believe you're right. It is a Chagall."

"That's what I like about you. You're not like all the rest."

"It's been done."

"Phil, wake up! The bird feeder! It's empty!"

"What are you going to do with your tax cut?"

"Hi, Beautiful!"

"There's a happy Puritan."

"Gosh, Roger, I can certainly consider myself lucky being shipwrecked with a person like you, I guess."

"I'm sorry. No one is seated during the orgy."

*"Gentlemen, I want you to meet Mr.
Fannin, who has just joined our staff."*

"Pardon me, Miss. Have you any idea how fast we're traveling?"

"Do you suppose Leonard Bernstein is trying to cover up some lack?"

"Ah, the curse is beginning to work!"

"Too bad! In all other respects, he's as good a Secret Service man as she could ask for."

"Will someone please tell me how I got on this mailing list? They want me to sell greeting cards door-to-door."

"The committee is now in session. Have any of you gentlemen got any special bills you'd like bottled up?"

"Sometimes I wonder if I did right giving him that combination thermometer, hygrometer, barometer, and wind-speed gauge."

"Bang! Bang!"

"In a democracy, a man has a right to ask for credit no matter how many times he's been refused credit."

"When Judge Picart makes up his mind, he doesn't waste words."

"All I'm saying is that to blame everything on Harvard men is oversimplification."

"That's the way the cookie crumbles."

"I'm sure it's all right. It's a horse you have to worry about."

"Well, dear, what kind of a lousy day did you have today?"

"It's nothing. Just another 'Great Publishing Achievement.' "

"For me it will end today if you don't say yes, Louise."

"And how come you are not now and never have been a member of the Communist Party?"

"It's going to be a difficult decision. On the one hand, he is our ancestral god. On the other hand, the Museum of Primitive Art, in New York, has offered a whopping good price for him."

"My mother and father aren't home."

"Rockefeller Center."

"I don't know what all the fuss is about. I've smiled like that a thousand times."

*"Trouble is you start treating people like equals,
they begin to believe it."*

1963

"Fred is a licensed motor-vehicle operator."

"I'm a psychiatrist, Mr. Fenton. There's a tribe of Indians in northwestern Peru who are known as head-shrinkers."

"I'm sorry, Mr. Beasley. When I said 'How's business?' I was only making conversation."

"I didn't think the crêpes Suzette were that bad."

"We're just kidding ourselves, thank you."

"It says I'm the fairest one of all! So there!"

"Good heavens! There's been a coup d'état."

"I turned the other cheek, and he belted me again."

“Someone must love someone very much indeed.”

"My new hat will be four months old tomorrow."

"This is going to make me feel guiltier than you."

"Now, R.G., don't get the idea I'm resting because I want to."

"A stockholder, maybe."

"And this is Commodore Burkhead, who skippered Whirlwind to victory back in '22."

"How long since you've brought a present home to the little woman?"

"En garde. He doesn't have time for the waiting game."

"Think it, Cameron. Don't say it."

"Then it's moved and seconded that the compulsory retirement age be advanced to ninety-five."

"They sent her to Bennington to lose her Southern accent, and then she turned her back on everything."

"Tell me this, Ed. Did the fans get their money's worth?"

"Do you know who you are, Mr. Cottrell? You're the first client I've ever bought a Martini for."

"You're a sweetheart!"

"This above all: to thine own self be true, and it must follow, as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man."

"Actually, I'm not off duty. I'm just having some fun."

"Believe me, if you were the defendant, I'd have made up my mind hours ago."

"Don't blame us. It isn't our fault that you came out during the newspaper blackout."

"As I understand it, then, your credo is that everything is a lot of malarkey."

"He's crazy about me."

1963

"Check Bodmer's work tonight, will you?"

"And we come in four basic colors—red, black, white, and yellow."

"I don't know anything about art, but I know what I'm supposed to like!"

"Why do you have to be the only one to say he's uncomfortable?"

"Do you think they'll give away those little green Heinz pickles again?"

"I'm sorry, but somehow that's terribly funny."

"Well, take some good advice from me, you smokers. When the day comes that cigarettes are completely outlawed, don't be caught short! Lay in a big supply of mild, mellow Wiltshires now!"

"I'm weightless, and you don't even care!"

"George! You know how you're always asking, 'Where are the snows of yesteryear?' "

"This is the big cheese speaking."

"Very simply, Martha, the difference between us is that I miss James Reston and you miss Dorothy Kilgallen."

"Oh, she couldn't be! Not in Peter Cooper Village."

"I'm sick and tired of living in a papoose-oriented tepee!"

"Know what I dreamed last night? I dreamed that the book, the record, the fruit, and the cheese-of-the-month all arrived on the same day."

"Look. When they said come on over for some singing, was I supposed to ask what kind?"

"Well, things like 'Dig We Must,' those 'Off Duty' cabs, the Pan Am building, to name a few!"

“Sure I want to keep Bert and Harry on TV, but I also feel a certain responsibility to Miss Rheingold.”

"In the future, Mr. Johnson, it won't be necessary to bring along these people to validate your tipping deductions."

"You're not getting any younger yourself!"

"No more for him. He's fey enough."

"Who is this Max Lerner?"

"It's me again, Harry. They tell me I've already had lunch."

"Havana for a week or two! Where have you been, Martha?"

"I wish there were some way to tell them we have nowhere else to ride but in the Park."

"I say he's a disturbing influence in this community."

"For you, Miss Morgan, that 'private' means 'welcome.' "

"He may be a fine veterinarian, but we're going to get some funny looks."

"I will not let high taxes rob me of my initiative!"

"Scusi, Signora, per favore . . ."

"It beats me how they all find something worth saying."

"Oh, you unhappy man!"

"Miss! There's no crushed almond on my tortoni!"

"She's a perfect saint, but, of course, he's more of a person."

"Yep, that's right. This is 111-234-5870, but it ain't Mt. Kisco."

"It's a sad state of affairs when Lever House begins to seem like a warm old friend."

"For God's sake, no! Not with my T-square!"

"Please, Mr. Merrick, I want some more money."

"I'll lay you five to one he gives them the ticket anyway."

"I know there's an H-bomb somewhere with my name on it."

"Just relax. We'll let you know the instant it makes the scene."

"That's the trouble with us gnomes. We're over-regimented."

"It's about somebody poisoning the table sugar, and they don't know who!"

"You're not working for me, Ziegler, you're working with me. Remember that."

Bruce Petty (3/23/1963)

Return to Main Menu ▶

"Do you think it would be tactless to ask him where he went wrong at Bull Run?"

"How many times must I tell you, Mildred? A man's office is his castle!"

"I don't know. I'm never comfortable sitting on fruit."

"Phone for you, Al."

"The film I had meant to show you on 'Communist Methods and Tactics' has been postponed again, thanks to the blundering obstructionism of our Dean of Men and his hireling lackeys!"

"Oh come, my dear. Twenty-two isn't young."

"I've forgotten. Which Louis am I?"

"I know it's easy to draw conclusions about those things, but that's the third Barry we've had this month."

"Generally speaking, I love a parade, but I don't care much for this one."

"I swear, Officer, it was 'Walk' when we started."

"Now, there's a warm human being for you!"

"I like people and people like me!"

"On the other hand, with 'Too True to Be Good' you get Lillian Gish, Cedric Hardwicke, Eileen Heckart, Glynis Johns, Ray Middleton, Robert Preston, Cyril Ritchard, and David Wayne!"

"Because I just don't feel rampant, that's why."

"Mary, I believe that one goes to the executive floor."

"Listen, Paluzzi, as long as you're working for Scarpi Costruzioni, I don't want to hear any more of your 'Rome wasn't built in a day' stuff."

"Let us turn now to I Samuel, Chapter 17, where I think you will find yet another stirring episode."

"I certainly hope we have controls before he gets the bomb!"

"Fifty cents is a rather small sum."

“Age before beauty, young man.”

"What proportion of the pad, would you say, do I use for business?"

"We were a party of four, if you don't mind!"

*"Sitting here tonight with you, Miss Drucker, I've come at long last to the realization that I am nothing more,
nothing less, than a man."*

“Something drab in a suit.”

"Now listen, Murphy! You've paid your debt to society, so get out of here!"

"If you two don't quit arguing with each other, I'm gonna throw you both right out of here!"

"There's no hot water."

"In my third reincarnation, we were rather well-to-do."

"Well, hello, Grabby!"

"The trouble with being a jackal is you're always surrounded by jackals."

"Hey, Judy! I have twenty-three per cent fewer cavities!"

"Howard, it's Mr. Newton! They're de-automating! You're reactivated! They're going back to using people!"

"What if all those months of reading the 'Christian Science Monitor' did something to them!"

"Are you sure you're compounding me quarterly?"

"All I can say at the moment is that he and I have engaged in useful conversations."

"Well, what'll it be? Channel 13? Or shall we just wallow in the vast wasteland?"

“Pierre Augustin Caron de Beaumarchais!”

"It's 'War and Peace.' I started it during the newspaper strike."

"I didn't like it then and I don't like it now!"

"Gin!"

“Once I’ve said hello, I don’t know what else to say.”

"Mr. Bronson, I think I'm entitled to a bigger slice of the pie."

"This ought to be good."

"But, sir, if you don't respond to polls, how can your elected officials know what to do?"

"Manchester certainly gets a lovely welcome every night."

"I'm for the underdog because I'm an underdog."

Modell

"I like a woman who knows how to listen."

"She's in love with Eric Sevareid."

"Who left his toothbrush turned on?"

"Wallace, isn't that already too deep for glads?"

"Most times I'd say 'Stick 'em up,' but sometimes, just to break the monotony, I'd say 'Your money or your life.' "

"I like this stream. There's no dirt backwash!"

*"As far as I'm concerned, gentlemen, this marks
the end of the Schwarzwälder String Quartet."*

*"You are small-minded, spiteful, vindictive,
and generally unpleasant."*

"No more for me, Al. I have to drive."

"Is it your protective coloring, or have you been avoiding me lately?"

"Why, Edward, you're crying!"

"Well, no wonder! You forgot to yell 'Timber!' "

"That's great! Just let the whole world know the fix we're in!"

"That certainly is a lousy cornucopia, Demetrius."

"It doesn't suit you somehow, Morton. You should sit more bolt upright."

"Harry wasn't born great and he hasn't achieved greatness, but he figures there is always the chance that greatness may be thrust upon him."

"You're a fun tycoon, Mr. Walker!"

"Great news, men! Starting Monday, we shift to transistors, speakers, and component parts!"

"Oh, goodness, here come the Sargents! And I told them we'd be away for the weekend!"

"Hmmmm . . ."

"He will not hand over his wallet! Go on! Shoot him! I dare you!"

"Well, here's one nobody which can deny it."

"If and when, Colonel—can I be in your junta?"

"Now, for the time breakdown tax-wise, I figure Ed veered away from business to golf for eight minutes; you, Fred, were on your son's algebra block for approximately ten minutes; I then returned to the discussion of the contract . . ."

"'McCall's' seems to feel that people like me should seek help."

"Oh, he's probably just turned forty."

“Happy?”

“Ecstatically.”

"Say, why don't I join you fellows?"

"You had no trouble scintillating at the Martins'. Why can't you scintillate here?"

"You're going to love it. It has a charming atmosphere and the food is divine—if it hasn't been torn down."

"He's about to let me off with a warning and then you have to call him a dirty, yellow-bellied skunk!"

"By golly, it is a maraschino cherry!"

"Would it be too naïve if we were to strike for just more money?"

"She should have done that twenty years ago."

"I wish I'd thought of that."

"Oh, yeah? Well, my kids are more secure than your kids any day!"

"That's seventeen per cent, honey."

"Well, sir, nine out of ten doctors drink whiskey when they want a drink, so why not drink what doctors themselves drink when they want a drink?"

"You're at the end of your tether! I'm at the end of my tether!"

"I wonder who it could be, Nina, that would be so much worse to deal with after I'm gone."

"I love you deeply, Audrey. I just want the Maynard Psychological Testing Company to confirm that you're right for me."

"I'll tell you what my philosophy is. My philosophy is 'Philosophy is for the birds.'"

"You may be 'big business,' Mr. Hask, but I respect you!"

"You know what I think? I think you're being intellectual on purpose."

GARDEN CENTER (I OF II)

"He doesn't seem very ecstatic about May."

GARDEN CENTER (2 OF 11)

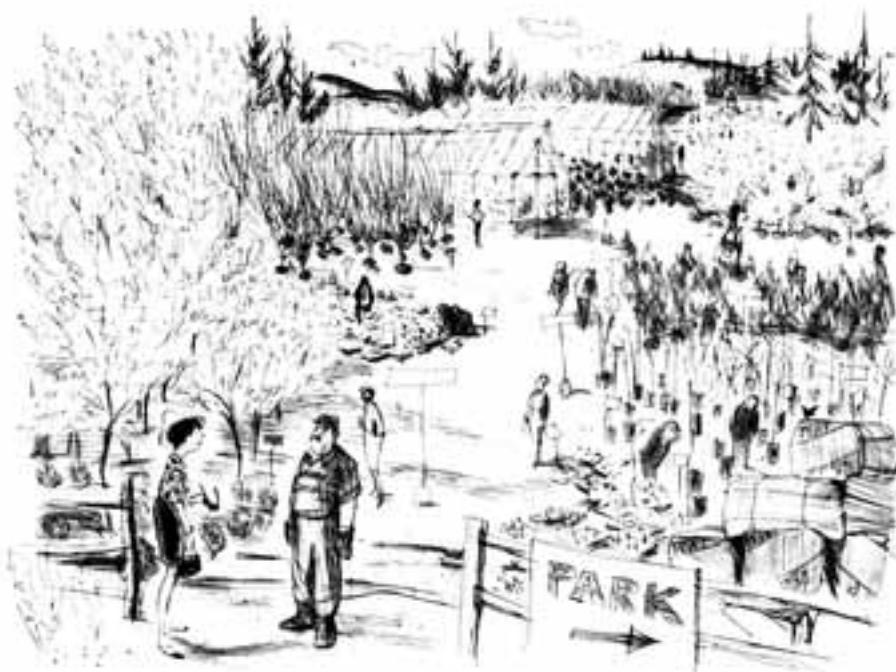

GARDEN CENTER (3 OF 11)

"He always pretends he doesn't remember me."

GARDEN CENTER (4 OF 11)

"What have you got?"

GARDEN CENTER (5 OF 11)

"I see the one I want!"

GARDEN CENTER (6 OF 11)

"I don't care if it is a weed. I like it."

GARDEN CENTER (7 OF 11)

"Now, don't sell me anything Rachel Carson wouldn't buy."

GARDEN CENTER (8 OF 11)

*"Are you by any chance the Mrs.
Cromwell who always won everything
at Grand Central Palace?"*

GARDEN CENTER (9 OF 11)

"Do you have to spray it or feed it or prune it or anything?"

GARDEN CENTER (10 OF 11)

GARDEN CENTER (II OF II)

"It looks peaked."

"I notice friend Jack isn't yukking it up the way he used to."

"Now we're completely automated except for Mrs. Belding."

“Could you please unzip my sleeping bag?”

"You're scared, sure. But what you should be feeling is pity."

"If all goes well, we'll have you up and accumulating another little nest egg in no time."

*"You telephone 'Better Homes & Gardens.'
I'll start making the hollandaise."*

"Your management is proud and happy to announce that for the tenth consecutive year, despite oppressive government controls and taxation, the continuing cost-price squeeze, and unending and unreasonable wage demands, our net earnings have again topped all previous records."

“Stanley, do I look like anybody to you?”

"Golly! You sure gave my truck a smack, didn't you?"

"It's nice, but it's not quite what we had in mind."

"Remember, I'm sober until proven drunk."

"Find out who he is, Captain, and run a security check on him."

"Poor Mr. Plummer keeps losing his conversation group."

"What's up, Noah?"

"You understand, it isn't that I have any objection to Kennedys as such."

"It's a date, then. American Express, Paris, July 18th, at two o'clock."

"This isn't goodbye forever, Anne-Marie. There's bound to be another round of talks."

“Frankly, Peter, this is not my idea of living.”

"I don't feel Marie is the right sort for the Garden Club."

"Just looking, thanks."

*"I just want you kids to know you're the only ones
here who aren't deductible."*

"He went down singing."

"I don't think you've quite caught the spirit of yoga."

"On the other hand, Appalachian Chemical is willing to give you the two-year training program and have your teeth straightened."

"We can't even teach ours to sit up and beg."

“Believe me, Mr. Jackson, if I do things to you, it’s purely unintentional.”

"You say you're only a housewife, and I say what do you mean, 'only'?"

"And I contend that the mere mention of religion nowadays does not always start an argument."

"You'd never know you were in New York, would you?"

"Yes, this is El Presidente—but, oh dear! I hear shots!"

"O.K. So when we have a party, we won't ask them."

"Madison Avenue!"

"I really don't care what he is! I just wish he'd stop telling those filthy stories!"

“Why, I am on my way to the tower, to rescue a fair maiden,” answered the good prince.”

"It's an ideal arrangement. They make the honey; I sell it."

"Madge, you're a good wife!"

"Oh, oh! Wrong apartment!"

“Once again I’m asking you. How are we going to make our getaway?”

"The gods are angry!"

"The squawks died out plenty fast when everybody saw the club bounce into the black."

"Nyet!"

“Darling! Our first flat.”

"Restrained anger, Calvin, restrained!"

"You're sure you've got it straight? Five ham and Swiss on rye with mustard, and four ham and Swiss on rye without mustard."

"To escape, a fellow needs friends on the outside, and all my friends are on the inside."

"He's really a very nice guy. It's just that he's terribly ashamed of being a best-selling author."

"Actually, what I had in mind was something a little larger."

"You look very distinguished with a pipe."

"Not the Dean Martin?"

"Before we go any further, let's run through the argument again and see if perhaps I didn't misunderstand one or more of your points."

"Well, not one penny of her one million seven hundred thousand dollars plus ten per cent of the gross is coming out of my pocket!"

"Cheese."

"For God's sake, Emma! They wouldn't think twice about eating you!!"

"Could you give me a dime for Dial-A-Prayer?"

"It goes that way because it's downhill."

"Looks like it's going to be a nice day."

"I'm Arthur Wincoop, from down the road. I was wondering if I could borrow a cup of chlorine."

"The way I understand it, it means that now we can plant all the wheat we want."

"They're inseparable."

"Well, here we go. Dog eat dog."

"Mother, I'd like you to meet Richard. He's a human elevator operator."

"They say behind every successful man, Miss Ashton, there's a woman. Will you be that woman to me?"

"Was there a Mrs. Izaak Walton, do you suppose?"

"You have the wrong apartment. I'm on the wagon!"

"On the contrary, they're farther apart than ever."

"I must say it'll be good to get back to Gramercy Park, where one has one's own key."

"You're both my best friends."

"Dammit, Miriam, we can't afford it! You know I'm filling twenty-one per cent fewer cavities."

"Hold it, Frank! That job's been replaced by a machine."

"We're mighty proud of our little town."

"Can you talk?"

"Perry's left the office suddenly after a mysterious telephone call. While Della tries to have it traced, Paul is racing toward the motel where the suspect is staying . . ."

"Look! It seeds itself!"

"Whenever I call Annie, I dial 684-1656 but I think Murray Hill 4-1656."

"Hertz didn't put you in the driver's seat, Hertz put me in the driver's seat!"

"You do not have a group of twenty-five. You have a group of twenty-four and a Great Dane."

"It was believed back in those days that the world was flat."

"Sh-h-h. I'm thinking cabaña."

"But, Pedro—the Yankee surveillance!"

"My project, boiled down to its essentials, is simply this, sir. I want to determine, once and for all, whether there is any truth in the common belief that money can't buy happiness."

"I suppose one or more of them may be sinking."

"Oh, we'll think of something. The main thing is not to panic."

"Good Lord, no! I'm just returning a repaired typewriter."

"Mischa! You're really asking for a midnight knock on the door!"

"Gee, Captain, this soup is terrif!"

"It isn't so much the heat out there. It's the humidity."

"Your contributions to the fund for the new wing to the High Priests' Tabernacle have been gratefully received. The Passion Fruit Festival was well attended, and we thank those Virgins who gave of their time to make it a success. Keep up the good work, Virgins. For the young marrieds there will be a meeting at the volcano's edge at the next full moon."

"Oh! What a disgraceful position for a Harvard man to be in!"

"Stop the presses!"

"Well, here we go again. Another discussion about the meaning of 'as is.' "

"That sign needs a little rewording."

"He'd really be a great executive if he could learn to delegate responsibility."

Bruce Petty (7/13/1963)

Return to Main Menu ▶

"Advertise! Advertise! That's always been your answer to everything."

"I'm sorry but I'll have to retract that bid. My husband just left me."

"What annoys me is that I know I'm going to see it."

"By golly, Janet, you're right! This area is rich in history!"

"Don't you go getting open and aboveboard with me, Hungerford."

"Avon calling."

"The way I look at it, all the world's a tent and every man's a clown."

"Hey, absent-minded! You forgot your hat!"

"Who left the sculpture on all night?"

"Fanny Colworth! When I say 'Starlight Roof, Junior Prom, 1937,' does that ring a bell?"

*"Testing . . . Nikita . . . Nikita . . . Nikita
. . . Testing . . . Nikita . . . Nikita . . ."*

"Here comes old Bausch & Lomb again."

"Pellucid, isn't it?"

*"What do you want for supper, Luke?
Creamed, stewed, fritters, or on the cob?"*

"Look, dear, there's a little offbeat bar."

"I'm willing to bet that most Internal Revenue agents come from broken homes."

"Kicks! Kicks! All young people think about nowadays is kicks!"

*"Why, if it hadn't been for urban renewal,
we'd still be living in a crowded, filthy slum."*

"Mildred, what have you done to your hair?"

"That's what's going on inside me, Geraldine."

"As long as you're up, get me a little cold lobster and some champagne."

"I liked her better in 'National Velvet.' "

"Boy! Are we glad to see you!!"

"A fool and his money are soon parted."

"But, Terry, isn't it enough that I'm me?"

"You might just get away with it."

"It's been so nice talking to you. If you're ever in Bloomfield, be sure to look us up."

"Try matching wits with me, Jackson, and I'll cut you to ribbons!"

"Hey! Here's a real oldie!"

"Holy mackerel!"

"Scout's pace, Malcolm. Thirty paces walk, thirty paces run."

"Well, of all the nerve!"

"How are you at digging tunnels?"

"He is stewed. Now he's worried about the Mets getting the Bomb."

"Don't come in this house if you can't be cheerful!"

"Wait! I forgot my John Hancock!"

"How's the wife, the children, and the flock?"

"Shouldn't you be shooting the sun or something right now?"

"Aren't we fortunate to be living in a world that's willing to ban nuclear testing!"

"Someday he's going to turn that other cheek once too often."

“Quiet down, everybody, and listen carefully. Aphids, go directly to the grapevines. Mealy bugs, proceed to the apple trees. Japanese beetles, head for the roses, and all you caterpillars . . .”

"The trouble with me is I lose my head when everyone about me is keeping his."

"I need the money to repay an unfriendly loan company."

"Eloise! Why aren't those children down here enjoying the pool?"

*"Gosh, Leonard, I'd love to see the new furnace,
but you showed it to me last time."*

"It's worth the climb! You can see the Athens Hilton just as clear!"

"Daddy's doing it again. He's watching 'World News Roundup' with the sound off."

"I am sorry! I had no idea you were that right of center!"

"Aloha!"

"Just for kicks, I'd like to propose the admission of Red China and watch his reaction."

"I've got it, Charlie! Guess what rhymes with 'Unisphere'!"

"Watch where you're shoving that elbow, Mac!"

"I know what I am, but I can't pronounce it."

MARINA (1 OF 17)

*"They're only twenty-four feet over all,
but they're awful nice people."*

1963

MARINA (2 OF 17)

MARINA (3 OF 17)

"Daddy! They've got television."

MARINA (4 OF 17)

"Why don't you folks send a boarding party over here for a little grog?"

1963

MARINA (5 OF 17)

MARINA (6 OF 17)

“Don’t worry about it, Florence. It takes a while to lose your sea legs.”

MARINA (7 OF 17)

"Fill 'er up, swab the windshield, and check the water supply."

MARINA (8 OF 17)

MARINA (9 OF 17)

"At first I thought I'd hate the sea, but now I'm an old salt."

MARINA (10 OF 17)

"Ignore them."

MARINA (II OF 17)

MARINA (12 OF 17)

1963

MARINA (13 OF 17)

"My name's Walters. I called for reservations this afternoon—on my ship-to-shore."

MARINA (14 OF 17)

*"What I dread is the day Eddie says,
'Pull up the anchor and let's set sail.'"*

MARINA (15 OF 17)

MARINA (16 OF 17)

"Land ho!"

MARINA (17 OF 17)

"David Lawrence is my Walter Lippmann!"

"This is a re-run, Ed. You've already blown your stack over this one."

*"Dichloro-diphenyltrichloroethane; lindane—gamma isomer of benzene hexachloride; isobornyl thiocyanacetate; methoxychlor—1, 1, 1, trichloroethane; related terpenes; technical piperonyl butoxide; petroleum distillate; pyrethrum extract; and malathion.
Or would you rather be bitten?"*

1963

"No, no, I said I was caught in a ticker-tape parade. I didn't say it was for me."

"My viewpoint is this—I'm for the test ban if it works."

"But didn't it strike you as odd that the farther you walked the lighter it got?"

"We don't find it terribly amusing, Porter, to have you refer to our bank and trust company as Cosa Nostra."

"They think I'm their leader."

"Look where you're going!"

*"I hear the big change
uptown is from Martinis to Scotch-on-the-rocks."*

"LXVI isn't old!"

"Watercress sandwich! That means my wife is sore at me about something."

“Mrs. Bartlett tells me you’re crazy about Shostakovich.”

"The thing is, sir, are you referring to your status quo or my status quo?"

“Charlie, I’d like you to meet Phil Nesbitt. He’s a Goldwater man, as who isn’t?”

"Every little breeze seems to whisper 'Louise.' "

“Just when you think he’s completely cockeyed, he comes up with another one of those damn aphorisms.”

"After tracing through this maze of holding companies, we find that Conglomerate is owned by none other than Conglomerate itself!"

"We can't go on like this, Miriam. My wife keeps asking me why I don't ever bring the troop home for cocoa and cookies."

“Can’t we be friends?”

"I can think of a lot of things we Eskimos need before we need a national anthem."

"Mother!"

"Well, maybe it won't work, but somebody has to start the ball rolling!"

"Don't feel too bad about it. Your left hook is quite deceptive—really it is."

"Gosh, is this part of the all-expense Middle East tour?"

“Could I borrow your gavel? I broke mine.”

"Let's take turns dialling ten numbers each with our eyes closed and see who gets the farthest."

"I figured he'd be a changed man once we got him away from that brokerage office."

"I wish I had walls as thick as this in my apartment."

"Well, I see my time's about up."

"Who or whom do I see about the adult English course?"

"Why am I home from the office in the middle of the day? Because I got fired in the middle of the day."

"I've been troubled lately by an eerie, recurring dream. I seem to be seated in a darkened room staring in helpless fascination at some sort of box, or cabinet, in the center of which is a phosphorescent likeness of the human alimentary tract, rendered in graphic detail, while a disembodied voice urges me to buy a potion for acid indigestion."

"Thank you, but I think I'll walk."

"Of course I love you, but I'm running out of air."

"When the bell rings, come out fighting. Land a couple of lefts to the jaw in rapid succession, back off, dance around a bit, then come in suddenly with a right hook to the ear, then a left, then a right, clinch, back off and feint with a left, feint again, then come in with a right jab to the body and then a left to the body, clinch, back off and dance around for a bit again, then suddenly come in with a long left uppercut . . ."

"Oh, for Pete's sake, pull up a chair!"

"Come five o'clock and all's right with the world!"

*"Now, this one is a little more expensive,
but it attracts a higher-type moose"*

"Then again, it may merely be the new Ian Fleming."

"I'm worried. I dropped a nickel the other day and didn't bother to pick it up."

"... except ours had a shorter tail and slightly longer ears."

“Because it’s here, that’s why.”

"The way I feel, Joe, is that I don't have business associates or customers, I have only friends."

"It's Sunday, Henry, and you know it!"

"I've been through this before. Flub one and their caws are deafening."

"It's a mighty heartwarming mirage, Les."

"I like the way Harper slugs it out with them on their own level."

"Prepare to meet thy maker!"

"Let's take it from the beginning of the scene again, and this time kiss her as though you really hate women."

"And how is the dollar this lovely morning?"

"It wasn't her sneeze! It was your 'Gesundheit'!"

"Great Scott! Now what's happened?"

"Paranoid, eh?"

"How was I to know that a polygraph was a lie detector?"

"What fools these mortals be—present company excepted, of course."

"Agnes, you know very well I'm not interested in rose-breasted grosbeaks and rose-breasted grosbeaks aren't interested in me."

"I hope it's nothing serious."

"Most impressive example of brand loyalty I've ever seen."

"Plaidland. Nine books."

"This is Dr. Reid, Mr. Howard. You've got to come out. The summer is over, your rental is up, your wife needs you . . ."

"Now perhaps Edwin will tell us why he thinks this painter is 'cool.' "

"Get one thing straight, Henderson. Beneath this rough exterior does not beat a heart of gold."

"I'm tired of living in the same house with my enemy!"

“Say, you sure selected attractive interior styling.”

"Joe, these people say they want flesh-colored Band-Aids."

"Do you marry people or do you just live with them?"

"Hey! Where do you think you're going?"

"Still, when it comes right down to the Presidency, is being divorced and remarried any worse than having the flag raised mechanically every morning?"

*"If you're just going to sit there and sulk,
you can leave the conversation pit."*

"All right, Wilenski. Go in there and make me tear up this suicide note."

"Maybe you're not capable of a willing suspension of disbelief."

"Tell me again. What was it you liked about 'Walden'?"

"In the wee small hours, I often ask myself, 'How have I spent my life?' And I answer, 'Killing bugs.' "

"On the bright side, my savings account is steadily compounding."

"Are you kidding?"

"I'll believe in their 'peace overtures' when they begin to talk about my 6½% Russian Imperials."

"This is it speaking."

"I could accept being replaced by a machine. But being replaced by Hubie Beekner!"

"Yes, you! I'm restricting you to half a pack a day!"

"I see trouble with algebra."

"You call that pomp?"

"Why do we always wait until the very last minute to worry about Christmas? Right now is the time to start worrying."

"I'll tell you what's wrong with the Museum of Modern Art. The sandwiches are skimpy."

"It's a shame, in a way. A man of Castro's drive and intelligence could have made it to the top in practically any field he chose."

"A compelling concept, Mr. Bastick. I'll tell you that much."

"But isn't this being a bit unfair to the alternate sponsor?"

"Think of something beautiful, Mr. Calburn."

"You're an executive, Thorndike, and executives do not lallygag in bed."

Bruce Petty (10/19/1963)

Return to Main Menu ▶

"It seems ridiculous to get rid of it now, with Christmas only a couple of months away."

"Know what I'm in the mood for today? A whopping combination convention-and-vacation trip, accompanied by wife, with business expenses only partially documented."

"If you don't mind, this newsletter is intended for insiders only."

"Why it's the Mildorfs! And at the Captain's table!"

"No, no! I said Doric, 'stupid, not 'Corinthian'!"

"It's one o'clock and I know something you don't know."

"James Bond, 007, here."

"I know I'm innocent, and that's really all that matters."

“Not even if I stick to ‘Hail to the Chief’?”

"Mr. Adler, I feel I'm not getting my share of the American Dream."

"I see the 'Stop Goldwater' movement is gathering momentum."

"Read any good books lately?"

*"Even if they pull it off,
they'll each get a mighty small piece of the pie."*

"You the party calling for madder music and stronger wine?"

"That Khrushchev is kind of cute when he wants to be."

"Since we must live in a world of haves and have-nots, let us be thankful we're among the haves."

"Listen, you all. It's about time a good loud 'Eureka!' was heard around here!"

"On the other hand, if Mr. Craig goes first, and you've elected Plan B, you'll really be sitting pretty."

"You're in luck. I've got through to them both. Who do you want to talk to first, Mencken or Fitzgerald?"

"You'd better go now, Fred. I think I heard the warning gong."

"Any ideas, Mom? I'm the sole survivor of a nuclear attack, and it's got to be no less than two pages double-space."

"Ever have one of those days when you keep banging your gavel just for the hell of it?"

"Bad news! The frost is on the punkin."

"Now, let's suppose, for the moment, that I am Mme. Nhu."

*"Whatever the trouble is,
it looks as if we're going to be here awhile."*

"What percentage of this money goes to UNICEF?"

"All we can do now is sit tight and pray."

"Gosh, Chuck, I don't know. I suppose what I miss more than anything else is stealing."

"So you're his new secretary. Well, tell him his old wife is here."

"Stop grumbling! If you're going to have knights in shining armor, someone's got to shine the armor."

"And these are the alumni."

"Gee, to think that's me!"

"I understand you're the office jester, Conklin. Make me laugh."

"A quarter's enough. Remember, we're not in the Bentley."

"That's where man made his first mistake, wouldn't you say?"

"You look worried."

"So—the Phantom strikes again!"

"Where do you want Penn Station?"

"Say 'please.'"

"Others are after your money, but they won't get very far."

"I couldn't help noticing we seem to be evenly matched. Would you care to step outside?"

"Having the whitest wash on the block, week after week—surely there must be more to life than that."

"Listen to this! It says, 'Proceed at once to assemble a male and a female of every living creature. When these are gathered together . . .'"

"Aw, Lefty, we should have hung around till they yelled, 'We know you guys are in there!' "

"I've said it before and I'll say it again. There's only one way to stop sucking your thumb—will power."

"My wife thinks Secretary Wirtz has me locked up in an all-night bargaining session."

"What do you think the world would be like if everyone spat on everyone else?"

"You remembered the day!"

“Jack Benny!”

"Mr. Chairman, distinguished guests, fellow-members of the lunatic fringe."

"Of course it's absurd. It's supposed to be absurd."

"But, Ed, don't you see? Once you've accepted the logic of the electric can opener, you've got to accept the logic of the electric toothbrush."

"It's an unusually rare fourteenth-century manuscript, and over here we think we have the author."

PARENTS' DAY (1 OF 14)

"Good to see you, sir."

PARENTS' DAY (2 OF 14)

"I didn't know you had a picture of me."

PARENTS' DAY (3 OF 14)

"We had a wonderful spirit here in my day. They didn't make such a big thing about grades."

PARENTS' DAY (4 OF 14)

*"I feel I should dress like a mother
when I come up."*

PARENTS' DAY (5 OF 14)

"The guy they named that after nearly flunked out."

1963

PARENTS' DAY (6 OF 14)

"We're missing Open House at the Infirmary!"

PARENTS' DAY (7 OF 14)

"Go ahead—speak French to me."

PARENTS' DAY (8 OF 14)

"Any questions?"

PARENTS' DAY (9 OF 14)

PARENTS' DAY (10 OF 14)

"When I read it at home, I didn't know it had all that stuff in it. Irony and metaphor and all that."

PARENTS' DAY (II OF 14)

"I want to warn you about my bill at the student store. Almost all of it was necessary."

PARENTS' DAY (12 OF 14)

"I don't know what we'd do without this man on our defensive line."

PARENTS' DAY (13 OF 14)

"Why aren't you wearing your Viyella sweater?"

PARENTS' DAY (14 OF 14)

"Don't sit on that bed! Sit on my bed!"

"How about going out with me tonight and tying on the old feed bag?"

“Say ‘Cheese.’”

“Cheese.”

"No, five grand wasn't enough for me. I was a pig!"

"Golly, Burt, this hotel looks every bit as warm and gay and wonderful as the travel agent promised."

"I hope you can fight better than you can teach."

"Gone to committee meeting. Dinner in refrig. Best, Clara."

"Until this Baker business blows over, Miss Martin, I'd prefer you not to address me as Toots."

"If you're so wise, why aren't you rich?"

"No, no, Mr. Fitzhugh! You moved to New Canaan. Remember? You go home on the train."

"And get a load of that cigarette lighter. The previous owner didn't smoke."

"He's short, bald, middle-aged, but very nice."

"Miss Marchand, you know very well that this is contrary to Peace Corps policy."

1963

"Sergeant, I hardly know where to begin."

"Alms, for the love of Allah, Mac!"

"Sorry, neighbors. I just happened to lean against it."

"Not on the nose! Not on the nose!"

"Nothing for us, thanks. We're completely automated."

"I said I would bring it! Now stop bugging me!"

"When the time comes to worry about someone called Cheddi Jagan, I'm just not going to worry about him."

"I love this little old town."

"Come, dear. Finish your doodh pak!"

"Look! Jim has the ball! See him run! Run, Jim, run!"

"Our first Social Security check!"

"I told you to stay in line!"

"Every year a humble shepherd! Can't he ever be one of the kings?"

"I've got my new office, Marge, and I'm afraid I'm no longer on the way up."

"Mr. Bliss, it was really sweet of you to ask me to your Thanksgiving dinner."

"Well, there it is. We have exactly three hundred and fifty-one friends."

"You may have the brains, Ernie, but I'm the one who's beloved."

"We had a marvellous lunch. She told me so many things not to tell you I don't know where to begin."

"Now the gods are angry about neo-colonialism."

"I haven't the heart to tell him there's no such place as Shangri-La."

"When I speak of mankind, one thing I don't mean is womankind."

"I've been thinking. This year, instead of giving everything away, why don't we charge a little something?"

"I just can't make up my mind. They all look so good."

"I don't like it already."

"Mr. Whitbeck, I must refuse to take on the Huntington account. It Just does not belong in my department."

"You probably didn't realize it, Mr. Whitbeck, but the Huntington account is not within my department."

"May I remind you, Mr. Whitbeck, the Huntington account does not fall within my province?"

"Mr. Whitbeck, I realize that you're the boss, but may I say that it seems to me the Huntington account doesn't properly belong in my department?"

"Man does not live by pemmican alone, Baby."

"What I hate about trees is they're always in the way!"

"Well, shall we count our blessings?"

"Waiter, are you mad at me?"

"I'd have a lot less trouble with my wife if you people gave trading stamps."

"Ronald! What happened to the filibuster?"

"Hungry?"

"Any time I'm being a yes-man it's because I'm thinking 'yes.' "

"Why is it whenever I criticize someone, you decide to be charitable?"

"You're a nice guy and all that, Harry, but you're a lousy glassblower."

"I figure what Euripides doesn't know won't hurt him."

"I'm sorry to say it, dear, but I'm afraid I miss my Monet."

"Tomorrow is our anniversary, and I've written down the ten things I like about you most."

"I'm sorry, young man, but I'm afraid I don't speak Spanish."

"You know, somebody, somewhere, right this minute, is figuring out a way to sell us something."

"And I say you're spoiling him."

"I think we can put Mr. Cleghorn on solids."

"Oh, Charles! We agreed we weren't going to exchange presents this year!"

"As long as you're Grant, get me a 7-Up."

"I suppose I should be blasé by now, but I never cease to be amazed at the number of fish in the sea."

"I see we share the same taste in detergents."

"No, it wasn't me that 'Ho, Ho, Ho'd.' I thought it was you that 'Ho, Ho, Ho'd.'"

"He'll be sorry he missed you. But I can assure you that at the time we all considered it a stock with strong growth possibilities."

"Why can't you make popcorn like that?"

"It kept me busy."

"Now, now, Joe, don't be bitter. Think of them all safely at home surrounded by their families, where they should be on this night of all nights."

"My mother lives in Philadelphia. If you want the lady of the house, you're speaking to her."

"Just what are you trying to prove, Isaac?"

“... and a blade for removing stones from horses’ shoes!”

"Notice how the drooping-shoulder cut gives you that air of deep humility."

"Edna, don't you feel you're taking something fine from our marriage with these lie-detector tests?"

"Good man, Boker. Damn shame about his losing his job at Kenyon & Eckhardt."

"What do I get for my fifteen-dollar minimum?"

"We merged to save through volume buying."

"Miss Harper, how would you like to be on the cover of our house organ?"

"For God's sake, Harry, why don't we just move back?"

"It's nothing, Sarge. Just want to wish you a Happy New Year."

"Promise me, Dad. Don't ask him what his prospects are. Ask him how much longer he has to go in school."

"I'm awfully sorry, but we're trying to discourage small accounts."